Subject : Unsolicited application for software engineer.

Dear Madam, Sir,

Since the beginning of my studies I have been interested in your company. Indeed, I am passionate about technology that can help people access information and communicate it to others.

Your company has established itself and become the world leader in its field

I am passionate, rigorous and versatile. With me in your team, we will be able to accomplish great things and perpetuate Google's vision of the universality of information.

Pending your response, please accept, Madam, Sir, my best regards.
